Getting to Bali

The best way to get to Bali is by plane. There are direct flights to Bali from many major cities around the world. Once you arrive at Ngurah Rai International Airport (DPS), you can take a taxi or bus to your hotel.

Where to Stay in Bali

There are a variety of accommodation options available in Bali, from budget-friendly hostels to luxury resorts. If you're traveling solo, I recommend staying in a hostel. Hostels are a great way to meet other travelers and save money on accommodation.

Here are a few of the best hostels in Bali for solo female travelers:

- The Slow
- The Farm Hostel
- The Chillhouse
- The GUNUNG
- The Hideout

Things to Do in Bali

There are endless things to do in Bali, from hiking to surfing to exploring ancient temples. Here are a few of the must-do activities for solo female travelers:

- Visit the Tanah Lot Temple
- Hike Mount Batur
- Surf at Kuta Beach
- Explore the Ubud Monkey Forest
- Take a cooking class
- Visit the rice terraces of Jatiluwih
- Go on a snorkeling or diving trip
- Get a massage
- Shop for souvenirs at the Ubud Market
- Enjoy the nightlife in Seminyak

Safety Tips for Solo Female Travelers

Bali is a relatively safe destination for solo female travelers. However, there are always some precautions you should take to stay safe.

- Be aware of your surroundings.
- Don't walk alone at night.
- Keep your valuables secure.
- Don't get too drunk.
- Trust your instincts.

Packing Tips for Solo Female Travelers

When packing for a solo trip to Bali, it's important to pack light and pack smart. Here are a few tips:

- Choose comfortable clothing that you can mix and match.
- Pack a swimsuit and cover-up.
- Bring a light jacket or cardigan for the evenings.
- Pack a good pair of walking shoes.
- Don't forget your sunscreen and insect repellent.
- Pack a first-aid kit.
